[DIALOGUE]

Mary Poppins:

By the time the wind has blown the weather-vane around, I'll show you, if I can. No matter what the circumstance, for one thing I'm renowned: my character is spit-spot spic and span. I'm practically Jane: What about your measurement, Mary Poppins?

per-fect in ev-ery way.

MARY POPPINS:

per-fect? So peo-ple say.

Each vir-tue vir-tu-al-ly knows no bound.

Each trait is great and pat-ent-ly sound. I'm prac-ti-cal-ly per-fect from head to toe.

If I had a fault, it would nev-er dare to show. I'm so prac-ti-cal-ly

Poco più mosso

per-fect in ev-ery way.

STOP!

Più mosso

Both prim and pro-per and nev-er too stern.

Well ed-u-ca-ted yet will-ing to learn.
